Arabs May Take Palestine Issue To U.N. Assembly

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Faris El-Khoury, Syrian representative to the United Nations' Security Council, indicated today the Arab states might place the Palestine case with the United Nations before Great Britain can take such action.

El-Khoury criticized Britain as being "too docile" in dealing with Palestine and declared British authorities should "suppress immediately the Jews" in the Holy Land.

"If the Jews are allowed to continue immigration into Palestine," he said, "they will drive the Arabs out of the country. Immigration should stop completely."

The diplomat said the only solution for the situation was to make the country an independent state where Jews and Arabs can live together under the same form of democratic government.

LONDON (Reuter)—Britain's Parliamentary Labor Party today was placed in a position of some embarrassment by Foreign Secretary Bevin's decision to refer the Palestine problem to the United Nations without modifying the procedure of the white paper of 1939.

The Labor Party in the general election of 1945 pledged itself to the repeal of the white paper policy, which restricted Jewish immigration to Palestine and to aiding the cause of the Jewish national home.

The party contains some leading British Zionists. These elements are likely to be vocal at a private meeting of the Parliamentary Labor Party.

Barnett Janner, Socialist member of Parliament, speaking on behalf of the British Zionist Federation, said in an interview after Bevin's statement in the Commons Tuesday that the British Zionists would oppose Bevin's procedure.

Fear Airliner Down In Atlantic

NEW YORK (CP)—The U.S. Coast Guard reported today that an Air France Constellation airliner had sent out on SOS from a position estimated at 390 miles northwest of Casablanca, Africa, and possibly was down in the Atlantic ocean.

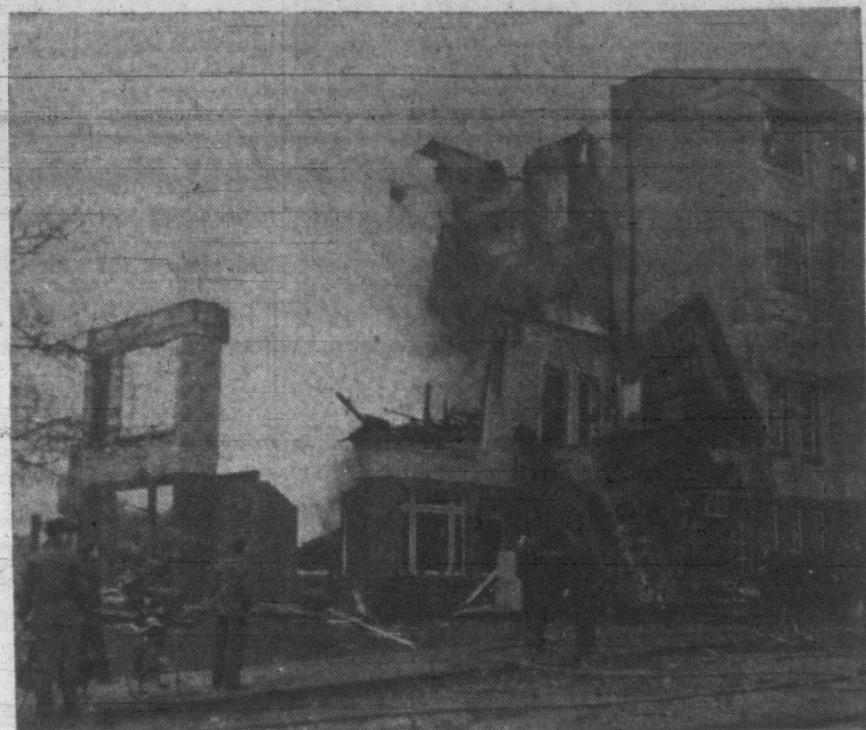

Details as to the number of persons aboard were not immediately available, the Coast Guard said, adding that the plane's SOS had stated that it had jettisoned all cargo and was circling a ship below it in the water.

Manitoba Official Found Shot Dead

WINNIPEG (CP)—Ralph McN. Pearson, 54, deputy treasurer of Manitoba, was found dead today in the washroom of his private office in the Legislative Building. A .38 calibre revolver was found on the floor beside the body.

Mr. Pearson had been ill health for some time. He had recently worked on the Dominion-Provincial taxation agreement recently concluded and colleagues attribute his death to a nervous collapse.

No Plans To Rebuild Somass Hotel

Site and ruins of fire-swept Port Alberni hotel will be offered for sale.

(Special to the Times)

PORT ALBERNI—Harry C. Winter, trustee of the Waterhouse estate, announced here today that the site and remains of the Somass Hotel gutted by fire Monday, would be sold as soon as the insurance adjusters had completed their investigations.

Proceeds from the sale of the property, he said, would be divided among beneficiaries who were Mrs. C. Waterhouse, Mrs. L. J. Clark, 1037 Richardson Street, Victoria; Mrs. Poppy Glaspie, Vancouver, and two nieces residing in England.

Twenty-five to 30 rooms above Woodward's Department Store in the Somass Block were only damaged by smoke and water and could be put into operation within a few months, he said. The beer parlor could also be repaired and put into operation within a month.

Woodward's department store adjoining the gutted hotel had only suffered damages from smoke and water, and expected to reopen within a week, Mr.

Winter reported. Workers had already begun to repair the damage done to the store.

Mr. Winter said adjusters arrived today to take stock of the damage done by the fire which completely destroyed the four-story wood section of the building and gutted the new brick wing.

"As far as the Waterhouse Estate is concerned," he said, "we are not going to rebuild, and we are offering the site-for-sale as soon as the adjusters have completed their investigations."

Striking Maritime Miners Still Hope For Early Peace

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP)—President Freeman Jenkins of United Mine Workers (C.I.L.) District 26 remained in Ottawa today, indicating that not all hope had been abandoned of possible further steps towards a solution of the coal strike in the Maritime provinces. Nine other union leaders headed home.

The statement of a government official however, that Tuesday's conference with the Labor Department in Ottawa had brought the issue "no nearer a solution" was taken here as meaning remaining hope was slim to adjust the wage dispute.

Mr. Jenkins and two top officials of his union board had no comment on Tuesday's talks, but it was expected here they would leave Ottawa tonight unless some new development occurred.

Harold Gordon, coal manager and chief spokesman for the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation in its wage dispute with the U.M.W., was already on his way back to the Maritimes.

ASK INSURANCE

Meanwhile, as 13,000 miners went through the fourth day of their strike, the first signs of unemployment attributable to the walkout appeared in colliery towns.

National Employment Service officials here said 80 employees of the Sydney and Louisburg Railway, Dosco's coal-hauling subsidiary, had applied for unemployment insurance.

Saturday, most miners will draw their last pay for the duration of the strike.

With coal production at a standstill, many workmen said their own domestic coal supplies were "in fair shape."

The 1946 total, however, was $3,000,000 higher than the C.P.R. had estimated at the time it made the application last fall.

CEMENT, LOGS, PAPER

Chiefly responsible for the increase in the actual figure over the estimate, Mr. Jefferson declared, was traffic in cement, fruits and vegetables, grain, logs and paper.

Mr. Jefferson said he had estimated 1947 freight revenue as $223,500,000 without an increase, or $260,091,000, had a 30 per cent. increase been granted as of the start of this year.

The $223,500,000 figure included $8,000,000 additional revenue for international traffic on which the United States Interstate Commerce Commission recently granted increases.

C.P.R.'s Earnings Off By $9,000,000, Rail Board Hears

OTTAWA (CP)—C. E. Jeffery, son of Montreal, freight traffic manager of the C.P.R., told the Board of Transport Commissioners today the line's railway freight earnings fell off by more than $9,000,000 in 1946.

Testifying at the inquiry into the railways' application for higher freight rates, Mr. Jeffery said gross freight income was $218,551,000, compared with $227,707,000 in 1945.

The 1946 total, however, was $3,000,000 higher than the C.P.R. had estimated at the time it made the application last fall.

Anscomb To Present Budget Wednesday

Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb is scheduled to present the 1947-48 budget to the B.C. Legislature towards the end of next week, probably Wednesday.

The current Throne Speech debate is slated to be wound up next Tuesday by Education Minister G. M. Weir, after two weeks debate.

The budget is expected to be the largest in the history of the provinces with revenues, swollen by the Dominion-Provincial tax agreement and other sources, anticipated to exceed $50,000,000.

Wyoming's First Buffalo 'Hunt' Expected To Be Last

After this scene members of the Chamber of Commerce of Rawlins, Wyo., which sponsored the event, said it had been so brutal it was unsuited to be staged annually. When the cowboys herded the bison the archers by mistake first killed a cow. Then one of the three selected bulls broke away and escaped. The other two were struck by arrows and wounded, but had to be killed by riflemen to end their sufferings. The Victoria branch of the S.P.C.A. had wired a protest against the holding of the "hunt."

Power To Be Restored To Some British Industries; Householders Go Without

Mountbatten May Succeed Wavell As India Regent

LONDON (AP)—Authoritative sources said today Viscount Mountbatten, Allied commander in southeastern Asia and a cousin of the King, would succeed Field Marshal Lord Wavell. Prime Minister Attlee will make a statement on Indian freedom in the Commons tomorrow.

(Meanwhile, Reuter's reported strong rumors in informed quarters said Admiral Viscount Mountbatten, Allied commander in southeastern Asia and a cousin of the King, would succeed Field Marshal Lord Wavell. No comment was available in official quarters, Reuter's added.)

MOVE WITHIN YEAR?

Speculation arose that Britain might be preparing to withdraw from India and to announce a plan for the sub-continent's complete independence, perhaps within a year.

One informant said British evacuation "within a stated period" was not out of the question.

The cabinet's decision to bring Lord Wavell home, these informants said, came as a result of the new constitutional crisis in India. They declined to say whether he would return to India.

The latest Indian crisis has followed Moslem League refusal to participate in the Constituent Assembly. British officials said the crisis "threatens" a break-up of the Viceroy's interim government.

Details of V.M.D.'s proposed plans for use of the property could not yet be disclosed, Mr. Hammill said.

Unsuccessful attempts were made two years ago to begin anew the whaling industry out of Victoria, which last operated out of here at the beginning of the war. However, after V.M.D. had taken in part of the original whaling fleet for repairs, it was found the ships were unseaworthy in their condition at that time.

Since that time the two principals of the whaling company have died.

Among ships of the whaling fleet which at one time operated out of here were the Black, Brown, Blue, White, Gray, William Grant, St. Lawrence and Orion. The Black, Brown, Blue and White are still tied up at Point Ellice. The St. Lawrence and William Grant are now operating as towboats for new owners, and the Orion is out of commission.

Death Toll 22

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—The list of dead from Tuesday's wreck of the Pennsylvania Railroad's "Red Arrow" here was fixed today at 22 by the railroad and Coroner Daniel Reigle of Blair County. About 50 of the 128 injured are still in Altoona hospitals, seven listed as critical.

Price Of Clothing Going Up Soon

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians will pay substantially more for their clothing as a result of withdrawal last month of the government's subsidy on woolens, worsteds, yarns and tops and lowering of the subsidy on cotton.

The Prices Board said today the new prices will be on shipments made by manufacturers on or after Feb. 18 and apply specifically to men's and boys' fine woolen clothing, woollen work clothing and sportswear, and women's misses' and juniors' coats and suits.

Although unofficial estimates placed the retail increases as high as 20 per cent, board officials indicated it was impossible to make an accurate forecast.

The increases would vary with the cotton, woolen or rayon content of each garment.

New Viceroy?

ADMIRAL LOUIS MOUNTBATTEN

Cousin of the King, who is rumored due to succeed Field Marshal Wavell as Viceroy of India.

Joint Defence Talks At Winnipeg Over

WINNIPEG (CP)—Several members of the Canadian-United States Defence Board left here by plane today to visit Fort Churchill on the rim of Hudson Bay following the conclusion of the board's first two-day session in Winnipeg.

No statement was issued at the conclusion of the meeting other than a terse announcement that it had been concluded.

Among the members making the flight to Churchill, where they will view army experiments being conducted under winter conditions, are Gen. McNaughton, chairman of the board's Canadian section, and Fiorello LaGuardia, chairman of the U.S. section.

"We hope to have the other 24 units ready for the occupants in a couple of weeks to a month," Mr. Palmer said, also noting that the Union Health Board was setting up a free baby clinic at the Colwood camp.

camp and that the Greater Victoria Recreation Council had arranged two free classes weekly.

GORDON HEAD SURVEY

Mr. Palmer, Robert Knight, Legion representative to the council; Forrest L. Shaw, president of the citizens' group, and W. J. Carter of the city building department, went to Gordon Head this afternoon to see which huts were suitable for reconversion.

At Moresby House, Esquimalt, eight families are lodged. Further reconversion is being held up owing to lack of electrical wiring materials. When completed the house will house 10 more families.

The Douglas Street Balmoral House is still filled to capacity. This place was designed as a preliminary resting place for the families until better accommodation can be provided. Figuring out ways and means to secure the latter has been a constant headache for the council and the result is that some of the families who were placed in the building when opened are still there. Three families have been placed at Colwood camp.

Victoria Bids Goodbye To Carrier Warrior

Canada's aircraft carrier Warrior as she left Esquimalt Harbor Tuesday afternoon on a voyage which will include a training cruise with the cruiser Uganda and destroyer Crescent. After two months here, the carrier is returning to Halifax, N.S., where she is expected to go into reserve after the R.C.N. takes over the new carrier Magnificent, now nearing completion in the United Kingdom.

Canada Assured 200,000,000 Wheat Export Yearly In New Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—A draft international wheat agreement to be placed before the International Wheat Conference opening in London next month would assure Canada of an export market of 200,000,000 bushels yearly at minimum and maximum prices of $1.25 and $1.55 a bushel for No. 1 Manitoba northern in store at Fort William Port Arthur or Vancou-

ter. The proposed agreement, tabled in the Commons Tuesday night by Trade Minister MacKinnon, was drawn up by the International Wheat Council as a basis for discussion at the London Conference opening March 18.

As a draft, the document is in no way binding on the governments concerned and will be replaced by a final agreement based on conference discussion.

Labeling the agreement as merely a guide to governments in their consideration of questions of policy, the council disclosed that at a meeting last July the majority of major wheat exporting and importing countries indicated they would accept as basic minimum and maximum export prices in a final agreement Canadian prices of $1.25 and $1.55 a bushel for No. 1 Manitoba northern in store at Fort William Port Arthur or Vancou-

ter. On this basis, the council suggested these basic prices be established on that basis for the duration of the agreement, which it recommended become effective Aug. 1 this year and run for four or five years.

However, before advocating any road-building program, the chamber decided to inquire what government plans were with regard to highway construction.

Two speakers invited at the Tuesday meeting to speak for and against the measure, omitted to supply the board with copies.

Members listened to C. R. Wilson, representing the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, paint a gloomy picture on the dangers of permitting passage of the act. He said the measure was infringing on the rights of individuals and a step towards Fascism.

J. J. Woods, a proponent of the act, said it would protect the farmer from exploitation or unsound agricultural practice.

The board after listening to the speakers decided to leave the question to a committee for study before taking a census of opinion on the subject.

"I couldn't give an opinion on the act," remarked Major Cuthbert Holmes after the meeting had been brought to a close. "I don't know yet what it's all about, and I'll have to see the measure before I can express my views."

The Soviet acknowledgement of delay was received late Dec. 6, but was made public today only in response to British and American inquiries. It was a memorandum to the tri-partite naval commission of the Allied Control Council for Germany.

The Potsdam Conference decided that surface vessels remaining from the battered German fleet which were in operating condition or could be repaired within six months should be divided equally among the three powers.

Officials emphasized that no one in a responsible position has suggested that the Soviets intend to repair the Graf Zeppelin or other ships for addition to the Red Fleet in the Baltic.

The officials said both the United States and Britain have carried out their commitments to sink or otherwise destroy the damaged Nazi vessels allotted to them for the purpose.

Topping the list of the captured vessels the Russians were to destroy was Germany's single aircraft carrier, the Graf Zeppelin. Whether it was among the craft whose destruction has met with "difficulties" was not revealed.

Chamber To Study
Agrologists Act
After divergent views had been alreded with regard to the proposed Agrologists Act to be submitted in the near future to the Legislative Assembly, members of the Chamber of Commerce decided to see copies of the bill for taking action.

Two speakers invited at the Tuesday meeting to speak for and against the measure, omitted to supply the board with copies.

Members listened to C. R. Wilson, representing the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, paint a gloomy picture on the dangers of permitting passage of the act. He said the measure was infringing on the rights of individuals and a step towards Fascism.

The fifty year-old dream of a West Coast highway was once again up for discussion at a meeting Monday of the board of directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Some of the members were strongly in favor of pressing the government for action in connection with the highway which would connect Victoria to Port Renfrew and thus open a vast new territory to the general public.

Topping the list of the captured vessels the Russians were to destroy was Germany's single aircraft carrier, the Graf Zeppelin. Whether it was among the craft whose destruction has met with "difficulties" was not revealed.

Uranium Production
At Standstill While
U.S. Senate Clashes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western mine owners said today the United States Senate battle over nomination of David E. Lilienthal to head the Atomic Energy Commission is affecting the output of uranium, prime source of all man-made nuclear energy.

As the hearings went through another day, a group of Colorado and Utah uranium producers said 300 mines in those states are idle for lack of answers to two questions:

When will the government start buying uranium from the mines, and what price will it pay?

Charles J. Moynihan of Montrose, Colo., counsel for the group, told reporters the mine owners had come to Washington seeking the answers from members of the Atomic Energy Commission.

H. W. Balsley of Moab, Utah, one of the miner owners, noted that the Atomic Act forbids the sale of fissionable materials to any agency outside the government, and hence the mines have no way of recovering on their production.

Much of the uranium ore in the region is mined in connection with vanadium, and Balsley said the present vanadium market will not justify operations for that steel-hardening metal alone.

British Football

LONDON (Reuter) — Burnley and Tottenham Hotspur played to a scoreless tie Tuesday in the only scheduled soccer game of the English League's Second Division.

The party will leave Ottawa by plane Feb. 26, will spend one full day, Feb. 28, in Churchill and will return to Ottawa March 2. About 15 newspapermen are expected to make the trip.

Movers Can't Take

Mother's Tears

VANCOUVER (CP) — Three moving men, summoned to carry out an eviction order Tuesday, refused to continue the assignment when they were confronted with the tears of a mother and her seven children who soon were to be homeless.

Mrs. Mary Hutchinson and her youngsters, ranging in ages from 3 to 16, were ordered to vacate their home by sheriff's writ, and Deputy Sheriff John Diggle was on hand to carry out the eviction.

Another moving truck was summoned to take up the odious task where the three conscientious objectors had left off.

Shelter for the night later was found for the Hutchinson family, but it may be necessary to seek emergency shelter until the mother and children are able to locate a home.

Auto Output Up

OTTAWA (CP) — January production of automobiles in Canada totaled 11,416 compared with 9,125 in December, the Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday.

The output was the largest since last May, when 12,755 units were turned out.

Production of all types—passenger and commercial—in January totaled 19,045 compared with 17,348 in December. Of the January output, 3,343 cars and 3,048 commercial vehicles were for export.

Coroner's Jury
Censures Parents

VERNON, B.C. (CP) — A coroner's jury which investigated the deaths last Saturday of two young children of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Coe, returned verdict of "gross negligence" on the part of the parents who "repeatedly left their children in the care of irresponsible juveniles."

Verdict in the deaths of Philip Coe, five, and Douglas Coe, four, was suffocation.

The two small boys had been left in the care of a 14-year-old boy, when the parents went out. The boy left the children to see a hockey game and returned when he heard fire engines which answered the call to the Coe home.

Russian Delegate
On Northern Tour

OTTAWA (CP) — Army officials said here a Russian representative would be included in a party of 10 to 15 foreign observers scheduled to visit the northern experimental base at Churchill, Man., next week.

The disclosure Tuesday came at a time when the Russian newspaper Izvestia labeled the recently announced Canadian collaboration agreement "an iron fist in a velvet glove" and contended that Canada was turning over her territory and army to the United States in preparation for aggression.

United States peacetime defence

Army headquarters said the Russian Embassy had said it would send a representative on the visit of a group of foreign military attaches and newspapermen to the joint services base in far northern Manitoba on the rugged shore of Hudson Bay.

Invitations were sent to all foreign military attaches in the city and none so far have declined the invitation.

The party will leave Ottawa by plane Feb. 26, will spend one full day, Feb. 28, in Churchill and will return to Ottawa March 2. About 15 newspapermen are expected to make the trip.

School Building Campaign Opens In Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI — At a meeting of a parent-teacher association meeting, Trustee William Johnstone, school board building and grounds chairman, opened the school building program campaign here, involving expenditures of $1,300,000 to cover District No. 70.

Mr. Johnstone said the junior-senior high school would cost $700,000, while the additional money was for elementary school additions in Alberni, Gill and Franklin River districts of the valley.

Half of the expenditures involved would be borne by the provincial government, Mr. Johnstone said.

Salt Spring To Form Legion Auxiliary

GANGES — With the object of forming a women's auxiliary to the Salt Spring Island branch of the Canadian Legion, a meeting was held in the Mahon Hall with Dr. A. Francis presiding. Those present voted in favor of forming the auxiliary. Temporary officers elected were: President, Mrs. B. Acland; first vice-president, Mrs. W. L. Rogers; second vice-president, Mrs. A. Francis; secretary, Miss S. Wilson; treasurer, Mrs. J. Watson; committee, Mrs. G. Lowe, Mrs. C. Devine and Miss R. Loosemore.

Freight Station Discussed At Duncan

DUNCAN — The feasibility of building a freight station on the Cowichan Bay branch line at Koksilah has been discussed by R. A. Bell, transportation executive of the C.N.R. and two officials of the railway, and the Duncan Chamber of Commerce.

The parties came to no decision after discussing the amount of business which might be picked up. However, a suggestion by Mayor J. C. Wragg that a spur line into Duncan might be practical was well received by Mr. Bell.

Ex-Editor Sees Field For Plastics

PORT ALBERNI — W. L. McTavish, retired editor of the Vancouver Province, told the Women's Canadian Club here that the field of plastics opened a tremendous opportunity for the Albernians, now that an additional 100,000 horsepower of electrical power was to become available.

The speaker also said Vancouver Island had not reached the limit of its productivity or ability to support more people.

Wheat Boost Means $10,875,000 To West

WINNIPEG (CP) — An additional $10,875,000 will be divided among western Canadian farmers as a result of the 30-cent a bushel increase in the price of wheat for consumption in Canada, announced Monday by Trade Minister MacKinnon.

The sum is based on the Canadian Wheat Board's estimate of the amount which will be delivered to the board for balance of the year. It is estimated 36,250,000 bushels will be sold at the new price of $1.55 a bushel.

New Government Plan For Occupied Zones

WIESBADEN (AP) — The eight German states of the U.S. and British zones are seeking to form a quasi-government of western Germany, it was indicated today.

This proposed organization, American observers believed, could become the basis of formal political union of Germany west of the Elbe if the Russians fail to agree on a central German government at the Moscow Foreign Ministers' conference.

The states' ministers-president secretly discussed a bizonal "political directorate" at an informal meeting Monday. One participant said definite recommendations would be made to the U.S. and British governments.

The plan centres around the five bizonal agencies established by Anglo-American authorities. These German agencies run almost the entire economy—food and agriculture, economics, transportation, finance and post. With offices scattered about the two zones to avoid political implications, they at present issue military-approved directives to which the state governments must conform.

German sources said the ministers' ministers feel they "must have control" to avoid chaos and confusion of purpose and needs.

French Now Hold All Of Hanoi

PARIS (Reuter) — French forces now have occupied the whole of the Chinese and Indo-Chinese quarter of Hanoi, a Hanoi report said today. Viet Nam nationalists escaped through an underground passage.

The fighting at Hanoi started Dec. 19 when Viet Nam forces suddenly attacked the French garrison.

Six hundred soldiers of the French Foreign Legion left Oran Tuesday on their way to Indo-China.

PARTNERS FOR P.G.E.

ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT parts of the highly-informative policy speech which Mr. Hart delivered in the Legislature on Monday afternoon was his fully detailed report on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. While he was not able to promise the elected representatives of the people an early solution of the numerous problems associated with the present and future of their own transportation system, the Premier brought the House up to date on a vast amount of detail which had been engaging the attention of the government during the last few months. His account of the merits and demerits of the various routes proposed for the railway's extension into the Peace River district, his description of the great storehouse of natural wealth which completion of the line would tap, and his hopes for a four-way partnership in subsequent construction and development work—all these factors received exhaustive treatment from Mr. Hart.

Four months ago, it may be remembered, the Premier assured the Vancouver Board of Trade in categorical terms that it was the intention of the Coalition administration to see that the railway was extended to the Peace River district. And he reminded his mainland audience that the P.G.E., at present constituted, was a pioneer railway lending itself to the wants and necessities of the people who pioneered the country by providing low rates for commodities and encouragement for industry. Mr. Hart is on sound ground, moreover, when he argues that the completion of this provincially-owned railway is not an undertaking to be regarded solely as a British Columbia concern. On the contrary, imaginative development of the territory which the line already serves and should eventually serve could transform the enterprise into a valuable factor in the national economy.

For the foregoing and other equally obvious reasons, therefore, the government of this province has a right to expect favorable consideration for Mr. Hart's proposal that, as soon as the final reports on location and resources are available, conferences from the province, the Dominion Government and the two transcontinental railway systems shall meet and examine the prospect which the Premier outlined to Mr. Mackenzie King on his last visit to Ottawa. The implication of this plan—which Mr. Hart explained in his speech on Monday—is a bid by British Columbia for practical assistance in the carrying out of a proposal which should result in the intensive development of the potentialities of the Peace River area, "not only in the interest of British Columbia, but Canada as a whole." At long last, then, the line which has produced many speeches through the years may come into its own.

THE PUBLIC DEMANDED IT

SO FAR AS WE HAVE BEEN ABLE TO detect from our scrutiny of the newspapers of the province which reach our exchange table—and they reflect public opinion fairly accurately—support and approval of the Coalition government's rural electrification policy appears to be practically unanimous. We refer to the fact here and at this juncture because our morning contemporary is almost alone in its somewhat strange antipathy to the successive additions to the capital structure of the British Columbia Power Commission. What on earth is to happen to this branch of the public service of the province if it is not to be provided with the funds to carry out the wishes of the people as sanctioned by their representatives in the Legislature? One would almost think the Colonist already had written off $30,000,000 as a bad debt—with nothing whatever to show for it and with no prospect of any form of return!

What has happened since the Power Commission began to act under the authority vested in it by the Legislature is simple to understand. It is developing new power—power for which the former owners of its source did not think there would be adequate demand. Not only that; it has found it necessary to increase the potentialities of that original source and lay the groundwork for an even fuller development than was thought possible or feasible a year or so ago. It has done this because of the demand; or, to put it another way, because this government agency has recognized the maxim that if you want to do business, you must put your goods in the window and mark them in plain figures—and then be ready to meet the demand. This is what the B.C. Power Commission intends to do.

With this general business policy in mind, furthermore, and with due regard for efficiency and cost of service, the Commission has used some of the millions of dollars already voted by the Legislature for the acquisition of a number of small plants in areas where the supply of energy either has been somewhat unreliable or too costly. In the interests of sound economy, by the same token, these individual units have been integrated, with results that cannot fail to be mutually advantageous.

What the morning paper does not choose to observe or admit, of course, is that the consumers of the power to be generated by the Commission's holdings will be contributing to the liquidation of the capital cost by their purchases. And the difference between the former system of power supply in the rural areas is likewise simple to understand and appreciate. Under the old ownership, dividends were naturally a prime consideration; under the policies of the Power Commission, the greater the sales, the greater will be the benefits to be passed on to the people who are now committed to a plan which, in its essence, is new evidence that there are some enterprises in which public ownership has an excellent chance of justifying itself in our free economy.

PLAYING THE OSTRICH

FOR MANY YEARS THIS NEWSPAPER has advocated amalgamation of Greater Victoria municipalities into one administrative unit. The overall benefits of such a scheme, as we see them, have been outlined in detail. We are unwilling, of course, to deny opponents of the plan the right to hold and express contrary ideas. But we cannot understand the attitude taken by the Saanich Council which last night refused to permit investigation of the scheme and the factors involved by some qualified authority to be chosen by the city and municipalities concerned. Can the elected representatives of that municipality—or a majority of them—adopt the ostrich technique of burying its head in the sand?

Moreover, if Reeve E. C. Warren wants an answer to his question: "Why should we move at the request of outsiders?" he might be informed that no municipality can now consider itself an independent and isolated entity. This is an age of interdependence. If Saanich wishes to hive itself off, it should give full consideration to the eventual results of such a policy.

The reaction of that municipality to the proposal that facts be assembled and published regarding the position of each district in respect to amalgamation is less than flattering to those who have initiated the idea. It appears to us to be the negation of a commonsense outlook. Furthermore, if Saanich insists on "going it alone," it is conceivable that its neighbors will remember that attitude when Saanich, in future, desires co-operative action on some objective of benefit to itself.

If this stand is maintained, it might be well for the city to launch unification moves from a different approach. Esquimalt has lent a sympathetic ear to the suggestion. A beginning might be made by concentrating on amalgamation of these two units.

GOING AFTER BUSINESS

INVITATIONS TO AN INTERNATIONAL trade fair are being forwarded by Canada's trade commissioners to manufacturers and other producers in countries with which the Dominion enjoys commercial relations. These have been printed in Dutch, English, French, Portuguese and Spanish, and a portion in English and French for distribution in Canada.

A trade fair is a "mart," not a public exposition, where producers and wholesale buyers meet to compare products and conduct business. The first fair of this kind ever held in Nijni-Novgorod, Russia, in 1935, 22 years after Great Britain and Russia had signed a trade treaty—in 1933. With the passage of time, principal countries of Europe inaugurated industrial trade fairs. For many years Canadian buyers have attended such functions at Paris, Prague, Brussels, Milan, Leipzig, Utrecht and London.

Today Canada's manufacturers and producers are working at capacity to supply domestic demands. Those of vision, however, anticipate that this country will be in a position by 1948 to meet more fully the needs of export markets, hungry for our goods. To investigate and contact these markets is a slow and costly procedure, and Canada now joins major exporting countries holding trade fairs. It is maintained there is no better medium offered to Canadian manufacturers and producers, seeking further outlets, than the opportunity presented by the Canadian International Trade Fair. The business it should bring to Canadians is of great interest to the nation's primary and secondary industries.

THERE IS NOTHING IN Mr. Taft's speech to indicate that he is even aware of the problem, much less that he is preparing for it, or is resolved to deal with it. There is on the contrary, disconcerting reason to think that Mr. Taft has as a matter of principle—quite sincere principle—closed his mind against any of the possible solutions.

They are, one, to export abroad the surplus capital that cannot be invested at home, and to reinvest abroad the profits of that foreign investment. Mr. Taft regards foreign trade as "highly desirable" but of trifling importance and he wishes to cut to the bone American economic action abroad.

Second, to invest large sums in the upkeep and development of a great military establishment and of the supporting war industries: Mr. Taft wishes to trim the military budget to a point where U.S. far-flung commitments cannot be adequately supported. Third, to engage in a large program of public investment for the conservation and development of American national resources, and for the improvement of the United States' altogether inadequate system of education, scientific and cultural research, and public health: Mr. Taft will certainly shrink from anything like that if it is to be done on large scale.

WHAT THEN, is there left to him as a policy which he can support as the day comes, as come it must, when private capital investment can no longer be sustained year after year at anything like the present rate? He does not approve of public investment, he dislikes the export of capital and does not care much for the expansion of foreign trade, and he has never liked military power. All that is left to him is to act as if private business could go on investing capital indefinitely, and to say nothing about what will happen to business and to the country when it becomes impossible for prudent business men to continue investing huge sums of new money.

That may for the time being serve as a sufficient policy for the dominant party in this postwar era. It might serve as a political program through the election of 1948. But it contains nothing which can avert, or prepare the country for, that repetition of the disaster of 1929 to which this philosophy of ungenerous laissez-faire will surely take us.

Walter Lippmann

MR. TAFT'S 1929

AFTER SOME MORE study, which he has promised to make, Senator Taft will, one may hope, wish to revise his Lincoln Day speech. For if this is meant to be a statement, or even a preview, of what he thinks American economic policy should be in the postwar period, then it is fair to say that it contains no hint of a suggestion that has begun to face up to the hard facts of the situation.

"The problem of stability," he said, "seems to me to rest primarily on a continuing balance between competitive forces, a balance between taxes and government spending, a balance between wage levels and price levels, a balance between wages and consumption, a balance between agricultural and industrial income." It is curious that he neglected to mention the need of a balance between savings and investment. Yet if there is one clear and certain lesson of the past twenty-five years, it is that when savings can no longer be invested profitably, and are not used in some other way, the whole economic system is thrown out of balance.

IN THE LAST QUARTER of 1946 capital investment, that is to say expenditures for new capital and equipment by American business, not counting agriculture, was running at the rate of fourteen billion dollars annually. The question is how long can American business continue prudently and profitably to invest capital at this rate, and what happens to employment, to wages, to industrial and farm prices, when this capital expenditure tapers off?

That question is not easily answered, and no one can quarrel with Senator Taft for not having a glib answer. But to fail to ask the question, to appear to be unaware that there is such a question, is to be blind to experience and to the facts of life. For in the postwar period of the 20's purchases of new plant and equipment rose to their peak in 1929 at something over nine billions, and fell to a little over two billions in the depth of the depression in 1933. They never got much above six billions during the New Deal era until war production began after 1939.

MR. TAFT'S PROBLEM, and the U.S. problem, is posed by the fact that if there is a serious decline from the present rate of private capital investment, a serious depression is as certain as anything can be. How long then can American business continue to buy new plant and equipment at the present rate of fourteen billions annually? No one can say exactly how long. But what is sure is that it cannot and will not be done indefinitely and continually. In each established business the time must come when it has all the plant and all the equipment which it can use profitably to make the goods and services it has a reasonable prospect of selling. Then, unless there are great new enterprises calling for capital investment, new areas to be opened up, the capital will not be invested, and the whole national economy thrown out of balance.

That time of trouble will surely come within a relatively few years—perhaps not in three years but almost certainly within ten. It will come, that is to say, unless we are fully aware of it long in advance, and are prepared and resolved to deal with it before it comes.

There is nothing in Mr. Taft's speech to indicate that he is even aware of the problem, much less that he is preparing for it, or is resolved to deal with it. There is on the contrary, disconcerting reason to think that Mr. Taft has as a matter of principle—quite sincere principle—closed his mind against any of the possible solutions.

The Execution Was A Failure

France Favors Broader Peace Parley

Servis D'Information Francais

FOLLOWING two memoranda submitted by France to the American, Russian and British governments dealing with the organization of Germany, a third document has been lodged with the "Conference of Deputies," sitting in London. It deals with procedures to be adopted in drafting the treaty. The notable feature in this document is the proposal of the French government that all the states concerned be associated more closely in the discussions of the four foreign ministers and their deputies.

Tr. note—recalls first of all that, according to the decisions at Potsdam, the German treaty was to be drafted by the Council of the Four Foreign Ministers, representing the States which countersigned the German capitulation. However, it is important to modify the procedure envisaged "on one point only," for, states Tr. note, "experience has shown that a change in method will be of use in this regard." It is a question of the participation of the other allied States.

The aim of the French proposal is, on the one hand, "to specify in what conditions the other allied States concerned can be included in the drafting of the treaty" and, on the other hand, to define the procedure which should be adopted by the Foreign Ministers on March 10 at Moscow, and finally, to set forth the methods which should be applied in the work of the next Peace Conference.

FOREIGN MINISTERS' COUNCIL

The Foreign Ministers' Council should draw up a list of the "States concerned," that is, neighbors of Germany or Allies "whose armed forces took part in the struggle against Germany." It is also stated that "every time

2. A Political Committee and Economic Committee should be set up in conjunction with the conference of deputies. Whenever the deputies are studying a question directly interesting other States, this question should be sent to the committee concerned to be studied in the presence and with the participation of the interested States. Other analogous committees could be informed if the need arose.

3. A Committee of Information and Consultation similar to that suggested for the Foreign Ministers should function in conjunction with the Conference of Deputies.

This memorandum does not constitute the first French effort to open wide her doors to immigrants, but the new regulations announced the other day by the Minister of Mines and Resources should encourage a fair number to come to this country to assured employment. We need additional farm workers and men for mining, lumbering and logging, and it is to the assistance of this part of our economy that the new regulations are directed. They will result in no flood of immigration, but in these selected categories there must be many in northwestern Europe and the United Kingdom eager and willing to come.

SETTLERS ENCOURAGED

Montreal Star

Capada is not yet prepared to open wide her doors to immigrants, but the new regulations announced the other day by the Minister of Mines and Resources should encourage a fair number to come to this country to assured employment. ### DICTATED TREATIES

Edmonton Bulletin

The treaty with Italy was dictated. The treaty with Germany will also have to be dictated. These countries set out to conquer Europe, as the first step in conquering the world. They failed, but they are not penitent. To make peace with them on their terms would be to tell their peoples that the mistake they made was not in launching the war of aggression but in losing it.

Whether they like it or not, the only way the Allies can make a dependable peace with the Axis powers is to lay down the terms, tell them to sign on the dotted line "or else" and then keep forces on hand to see that the dictated terms are kept.

Restrictive Practices

Daily Mirror (London)

INDUSTRY LAGS through shortage of labor. That, at least, is the orthodox explanation. But shortage of labor is not the only cause. It would not be far from the truth to say that lack of production is due as much, if not more, to restrictive practices than to actual lack of manpower. There are restrictive practices in almost every trade, and the people engaged in those trades know it. These practices are not confined to the trade unions. Non-unionists are quite capable of inventing their own methods of going slow and, in the majority of cases, do so. What it boils down to is a fairly widespread reluctance to do a good day's work for a fair day's pay.

THINGS DEARER

It is a short-sighted policy, for its effect in the end is to put up prices so that the consumer has to pay more for an article than it is worth. In this result it is not the worker alone who is to blame. Employers and trade associations have their own methods of putting a brake on the wheel when it suits their purpose.

It must be remembered, as Sir Stafford Cripps reminded us, that the restrictive practice is an unfortunate legacy from the time when unemployment was rife and the workman always in danger of losing his job. That was the fruit of an economic system which is now disappearing.

The justifiable slogan for today is "R.P. Must Go."

DIVERSION OF BUTTER

Front page of the London Daily Telegraph, Jan. 10, says that the handing over to Canada, by England, of six thousand tons of Australian butter, in response to a pressing Canadian request, has been for a long time a decision not easy to take.

Unfortunately, in times of economic dislocation, food becomes a strong political weapon. To starve a country is the next best thing to shooting at her.

Who is the Canadian responsible for this "pressing" unheroic request, in order that Canadians might not be asked to eat a few less dabs of butter monthly?

Community Centre Active In James Bay

The long green one-story at Dallas and Pilot, erected two years ago by volunteer workers, tenants in the Wartime Housing Ltd. area of James Bay, was brought into service again when the Community Counselors entertained past and present members of the James Bay Council and other invited guests from Greater Victoria at a reception and tea.

Miss Margaret Hines and Mrs. Jeanne-May Williams received the guests. Miss Hines reviewed the history of the building and the rapid growth of program. She cited the most spectacular events of recent months: A summer picnic attended by 150 parents and children. Christmas parties with up to 500 children given treats and toys; the junior boxing team featured in the local news, and the gift to the district by E. D. Todd of two playlots with $1500 for their development. It is anticipated that Todd Playground will serve many children in the area.

WEEKLY CRAFT GROUPS

Other important activities are weekly craft groups conducted by skilled leaders. Boys of 6 to 9 years are making bird-houses, flower boxes, candlesticks and other useful articles in the wood-working class and learning the principles of house construction in the carpentering class. The older boys are making model boats and the girls' clubs are busy doing felt and leathercraft. Teen-agers and adults enjoy social evenings, cards and dancing.

Miss E. A. Vaughan, regional counselor, from Vancouver, gave an illuminating introduction to the colored sound movie shown. The film entitled "Community Organization" shows the object of the Wartime Housing Community Centre project over the past several years and the valuable contribution made to the social and cultural well-being of the people by a well-conceived and directed program.

Tea tables were gaily decked with spring flowers and ingeniously fashioned toys. The teenage boys and girls ably assisted in serving and entertaining the guests. Mrs. F. M. Broddy and Mrs. A. J. Tullis presided at the urns.

Among the guests noted were Alderman D. D. McTavish, Cmdr. and Mrs. A. J. Tullis, Miss Margaret Clay, Mrs. J. Islay Muther, Miss Gwen Fife, Mrs. J. M. Jackson, Dr. Henrietta Anderson, Mrs. W. W. McGill, Mr. and Mrs. D. Decker, Rev. Leadbeater, Mr. and Mrs. Len Hobbs, Miss Isobel Pike, Mrs. C. Buhlin, R. T. Hoard, J. E. Meadley and Alan Browning.

Dealing with peptic ulcers in which ordinary methods of treatment have failed, Dr. L. R. Dragstedt reports success has followed his cutting the vagus nerve to the stomach. When this nerve is stimulated, the stomach secretes an extra amount of juice; when the nerve is cut, this effect is no longer produced.

The peptic ulcer patient is advised to follow his physician's advice in regard to emotional control, rest, refraining from tobacco and alcohol, and eating a special diet. In most cases, these measures are sufficient to control the disease.

"All I know is what I read in the daily newspapers," said the late Will Rogers, and 12,000,000 Canadians get most of their information from day to day in exactly the same way.

Army Changes In Retirement Ages

Officers of the Royal Canadian Army Medical and Dental Corps and the Chaplain Service who were on active service in World War II are to be permitted to serve, irrespective of age, until they have completed 10 years' service in the Active Force or until they attain 55 years in age, whichever is the earlier, according to an Ottawa dispatch from National Defence Headquarters (Army).

Under existing regulations, only officers holding the rank of brigadier and above remain until that age, while the retirement age for lieutenants, until now, has been 49 years.

The new policy goes into effect immediately and affects a number of officers with professional as well as military experience, who, although willing to remain in the army, are already crowded ing the retirement age for their respective ranks.

The move is designed to assure the army of a certain number of "old hands" capable of setting the pace until younger and less experienced officers with professional training learn the ropes.

E. E. Winch Suggests Government Should Take Over Hospitals

E. E. Winch, veteran of 14 years as C.C.F. member for Burnaby, Tuesday afternoon in the B.C. Legislature, following an analysis of the hospital situation in the province, came to a typical C.C.F. conclusion: All hospitals accepting patients from outside their municipal areas should be taken over by the government.

Mr. Winch also suggested that government grants to hospitals should also be based on the hospitals' ratio of graduate to probationary and student nurses and that the government, since it was making such large contributions to the support of hospitals, should exercise more control over them.

In an hour-long speech Mr. Winch dealt with many other problems of the government.

He suggested that the proposed medical faculty for the University of B.C. should be started with the present government grants of $1,500,000 for buildings and $100,000 for operating expenses and the government could possibly make available further money for buildings later on.

Mr. Winch also proposed that the medical faculty could secure use of one of Vancouver's present hospitals for training student doctors.

APPROVES PENSION RAISE

Congratulating the government for increasing by $5 the cost-of-living bonus for old-age pensioners, Mr. Winch said that of the 18,000 old-age pensioners in the province roughly only 4,500 lived in their own homes and 6,500 lived in rented homes. He suggested the plight of the others, living with relatives and friends might not be very satisfactory.

He mentioned the problem of senior citizens and scored the policy of sending them to the provincial mental home at Esmondale where they crowded out mental patients.

In the rejection of Burnaby and other municipal ratepayers of proposed B.C. Electric franchises for urban transportation Mr. Winch saw an indication of growing demand for public ownership.

He also advocated that proceedings of the legislature be broadcast, as a measure to secure a better informed public, and that the provincial government assume the full cost of widening Kingsway, a traffic artery for Vancouver.

Mr. Winch said the unexpected financial resources of the province may have made it possible for the Coalition to implement its 43-point manifesto in a year and a half rather than the five years it had expected. He wondered whether the government intended to do anything further during the next three and a half years, since no plans had been presented.

Industrial Survey Suggested To Expand Industries Of Island

The B.C. government was asked Tuesday to undertake an industrial survey for that part of Vancouver Island to be served by the Campbell River Development of the B.C. Power Commission.

The demand was made by H. J. Welch, Coalition member for Comox, during the Throne Speech debate in the Legislature.

"It is almost inconceivable to me that a project of this magnitude could be brought to its present state of construction without an industrial survey," said Mr. Welch. He proceeded to outline some of the outstanding industrial developments which were being undertaken or could be expected to be undertaken when power from this project is available. They are as follows:

1. A pulp and paper mill is now under construction at Port Alberni which will require 10,000 horsepower.

2. A rayon mill in connection with this plant is projected.

3. Engineers are now on the job at Horne Lake for the construction of a cement plant which will use 4,000 horsepower.

4. A new coal mine is being developed at Tsable River. He made no estimate of the power needs of this project, although he said coal was known to be available for a 35-year development.

5. Two more pulp and paper plants are projected, one on the east and the other on the west coast of the Island. They would use a total of 30,000 horsepower.

6. Kelp industries to produce medicines and chemicals were foreseen.

7. Already crab and clam canneries are in operation.

8. Sand is available for glass manufacture.

9. Clay is available for brick and tile production and possibly pottery.

THROUGH CAMPBELL RIVER PROJECT

"All of these industries and many more are possible only because the government had the foresight and the courage to embark on the Campbell River power project," said Mr. Welch. "But I do call on this government to immediately have an industrial survey made of the northern Vancouver Island area covered by the Campbell River power project."

Mr. Welch asked for a ferry service to link Campbell River and Quadra Island and the use by the public works department of landing barges for transportation of public works equipment between islands in the Gulf of Georgia.

He feared that during rebuilding of the Alberni Road by Cameron Lake, slides, loosened by the earthquake last summer, might close off the only highway linking the Alberni with the east coast. He suggested therefore that a detour road be opened via Horne Lake.

Mr. Welch also suggested the appointment of unpaid parliamentary assistants to ministers of the provincial government, appointment of a provincial government public relations counsel, appropriations over a four-year period to provide for a medical school at the University of B.C., consideration of the plight of farmers under the Cameron report, education, finance legislation and higher salaries to prevent members of the B.C. Police, public works and forest branch from leaving their jobs for more remunerative positions.

To Launch Tuna Boat

Marine Services and Sales Ltd. will launch a 41-foot tuna boat for D. McSween, Victoria fisherman, at its Wharf Street shipyard at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

The new vessel is the first fishing boat to be completed by the yard, which is continuing work on a tug and a pleasure cruiser.

The fishing vessel will have to be carried overland for several hundred feet for the launching.

Contributory Plan For Pensions Urged

W. J. Johnson, Coalition member for Revelstoke, called on the B.C. government Tuesday to initiate a contributory pension plan which would carry part of the cost of an equitable pension for B.C.'s senior citizens.

Referring to the $5 increase in the cost-of-living bonus for pensioners as a crust, he said it would no doubt be welcome to a hungry person.

He advocated the government at the earliest possible date establish the necessary accommodation for a medical faculty at the University of B.C.

A distinctive color for gasoline tank trucks and perhaps flagging of them over railway crossings was urged by the Revelstoke member.

Mr. Johnson approved of the extension of the provincial gasoline tax saying he was "pleased to note that it is to be retained and used for highway purposes."

Criticism of the Cameron report legislation was made by Mr. Johnson who said he could not "favor small children having to board the bus at 8 o'clock in the morning and not getting home until 5 at night in order to come to Revelstoke to school."

GUNS AGAINST AN ARCTIC SKY—On a snow-covered artillery range near Fairbanks, Alaska, the crew of this 120-mm. anti-aircraft gun stands by to begin firing. The men and the guns are being tested on Operation Frigid, a U.S. army winter manoeuvre in sub-zero cold.

Early Rush Averts Car License Queue

The motoring public of Greater Victoria today won commendation of the superintendent of motor vehicles for getting their 1947 auto license plates early.

G. A. Hood, superintendent, reported today the office now was issuing plates in the 13,000 series.

"The public has been extra good this year in coming in early," he said.

As a result no one has had to wait in line more than five minutes and the average wait would be about two minutes.

Mail orders for license plates this year have doubled last year; about 7,000 having been issued by the office here for cars in all parts of the province. This is the second year that the office has paid postage on mail orders.

Red Cross To Launch $5,000,000 Drive

Representative citizens, from every part of British Columbia, form the Provincial Campaign Committee for the B.C. division of the Canadian Red Cross Society which opens its three-week drive for funds on March 3. This is the national objective is $5,000,000, with $500,000 set as quota for this province.

"I have not the slightest doubt that British Columbia citizens will do as always and oversubscribe this amount," said Hon. W. H. Hamer, C.M.G., campaign chairman for British Columbia.

"No other province has been a greater supporter for the Red Cross, and I feel sure that those who have shared in the services of this organization during war years will take this opportunity of expressing their gratitude."

Mother, This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Splendid

Saves Real Money.
No Cooking. Real Results
To get really surprising relief from a bad cold, you can easily prepare a medicine, right in your own kitchen. It's very easy—anyone can do it—needs no cooking, and tastes so good that children take it willingly. But you'll say it's hard to beat—clear the air passage and helps from any druggist, and pour it into a 16 oz. bottle. Fill up with your syrup. This makes 16 ounces of cold medicine. It's a special compound of cough syrup about 4 times as strong as ordinary cough medicine. It never spoils, and lasts a family a long time.
And for real, quick relief, it is actually splendid. It works in three ways—loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passage and helps the cold pass away.

First, make a syrup by stirring 1 cup of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup, or liquid honey, instead of sugar. Money refunded if it doesn't please you. Then get 2½ ounces of Pineyyou in every way.

ROEG'S GALLERY

1. Mr. Roeg as he looks to the waitress at "The Coffee Pot". At first glance you wouldn't say that Mr. Roeg is a particularly prize specimen.

2. Mr. Roeg as he looks to the office force. ("What's biting old Simon Legree?" they want to know. "Jumpy as a trout!"

3. Mr. Roeg as he thinks he looks. ("Gotta slow down," he mutters, "guess I've been hustling too much. Better drop in and see the Doc.")

4. Mr. Roeg as he looks to the doctor. ("While plenty of folks can drink tea and coffee with no ill effects," the doctor says, "you're not one of them. Switch to Postum! It contains no caffeine or stimulants of any kind.")

5. Mr. Roeg as he looks to his wife that night. ("Darling, you've lost your job," she exclaims. "Worse," he replies. "Doe says I gotta cut out tea and coffee.")

6. Mr. Roeg as he looks after his first good swallow of Postum. ("Well, well!" he says to his wife. "I'm glad that Doe put me on Postum. It's a grand-tasting, beamsman's drink, with a fine flavor all its own.")

Postum is easy to fix—make it right in the cup by adding boiling water or hot milk. And remember, it costs less than 1¢ per serving.

Reception Begins Round Of Session Parties

Cabinet ministers and members of the Legislature laid aside the more serious business of government for a few hours Tuesday evening to attend a reception given by Premier Hart and Mrs. Hart in the lower lounge at the Empress Hotel.

Headed by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Charles A. Banks, distinguished guests included members of the City Council, heads of government offices, many prominent citizens and their wives.

The spacious room with its bright chintz covered furniture formed a perfect setting for the friendly atmosphere of the after-five-party. Vases of daffodils and pussywillows were used for decoration. Colors in the gowns and hats of feminine guests added a charming touch of spring to the gay scene.

The hostess, Mrs. John Hart, wore a smart black frock with fox, furs and small black hat with feather and veil trim.

Mrs. Banks chose for the occasion a cherry red suit of fine wool, smartly cut, complemented with a white blouse touched with gold sequins, silver fox fur and black velvet beauty cap.

People suffering from loss of appetite and run-down condition with symptoms of nerve strain often need a nerve and general tonic. Oleyo-Lecithin with Vitamin B (1) supplies tonic ingredients. It is especially beneficial for convalescents. By increasing the supply of Vitamin B (1) in the system, appetite is improved and the system thereby built up to normal if the loss of appetite was due to deficiency of Vitamin B (1) in the diet. $1.00 at all Cunningham Drug Stores and other drug stores.

SLOAN'S LINIMENTSaanich Turns Down City Plan To Hold Joint Amalgamation Inquiry

Saanich Council voted Tuesday night against a proposal by the city that experts be employed to investigate amalgamation of the city and municipalities and that a report on the findings be published in booklet form for ratepayers.

Reeve E. C. Warren led the opposition to the suggestion stating that the municipality would, if it took part, commit itself to a great expense.

Councillor Les. Passmore (Ward Seven) wanted the council to advise the city that Saanich would not contribute to the costs of an investigation on amalgamation, but that it would supply any information that the investigators desired. Councillor W. C. Kersey (Ward Six) was his only supporter.

Said Reeve Warren: "We never have had any petitions from residents of Saanich asking for an investigation of possible amalgamation with the city. We have enough responsible bodies to come and ask if ratepayers are interested. Through their silence they have shown us that they are not interested."

Councillor Thos. Alexander (Ward One), felt that department heads of the city and municipalities could supply the necessary facts on amalgamation without going to the expense of employing outsiders to study the question.

Councillor George Rudd (Ward Two), said he did not think many people in Saanich were interested.

AMALGAMATION INEVITABLE

But Councillor Kersey disagreed stating that amalgamation was inevitable and that facts were necessary before the matter could be placed before the ratepayers.

Councillor Passmore said he thought the people should have been consulted long ago by plebiscite on whether or not they were interested in amalgamation. But apart from that he was in favor of co-operating, provided Saanich did not have to spend any money in the city's proposal.

"They lose a lot of money as well as time by daylight saving," both councillors agreed.

When the question was put to a vote, they were joined by Councillor J. Len Hobbs (Ward Three) and Councillor George Rudd (Ward Two). Councillor Rudd termed daylight saving as "a lot of nonsense" and told the council the movement of the sun should not be interfered with.

Councillor Thos. Alexander (Ward One) said it could be too confusing if the city had daylight saving and Saanich did not. Councillor Les. Passmore (Ward Seven) stated it would be foolish to go against neighboring municipalities. They voted for daylight saving with Councillor E. P. Cummins (Ward Four) and Reeve E. C. Warren.

Library Service To Be Curtailed

Saanich housewives soon may be able to buy the family roast at their neighborhood butcher store on Wednesday mornings.

Twelve of the district's butchers petitioned the Saanich Council Tuesday night that the early closing by-law which forces them to shut their doors to business on Wednesday mornings, be rescinded.

If their number is a sufficient majority, their request will be granted.

Speaking on behalf of the 12 butchers, Wm. Laird said many Saanich butchers signed a petition asking for the Wednesday closing, in co-operation with city butchers who instigated the move.

"But the city is operating wide open now, leaving us under the regulation," he said. "Consequently we are losing business."

Several councillors thought that as soon as residents found that they were without library service, they would take a greater interest in municipal affairs and would turn out at the elections next December to support a new library plebiscite which would give them back the service.

The Victoria Public Library had pointed out that it could not continue to supply service to Saanich at the $1 rate due to increases in costs of its work.

Consequently the municipality will have to give six months' notice of suspension of the library service next month.

On suggestion of Reeve E. C. Warren it was agreed that the council express its appreciation for the increase.

Temporary Building Permits Checked

Saanich home builders given building permits for temporary living quarters pending completion of their houses, will not be able to sell their property and temporary residence if the Saanich Council can help it.

At a meeting Tuesday night the council decided to seek the advice of the municipal solicitor on whether or not a clause could be inserted in the building regulations whereby sale of temporary living quarters would be prohibited.

Councillor J. Len Hobbs (Ward Three), was responsible for the move when he warned that temporary building permits could be dangerous.

"We issue them. The builder puts up a shack. He sells the property, shack and all. And then where are we?" he said.

The rest of the council heeded his warning and tabled two requests for temporary building permits.

Urge Buyers To Get Property Deeds

Get the deed for the property you buy immediately the financial transaction is made, Saanich Council warned property buyers during discussion of sale of lots at a meeting Tuesday night.

The warning was issued in respect to the purchasing of property from veterans who bought the property from the municipality at reduced rates.

Instances where veterans had sold their property were cited, but purchasers could not get the deeds, as sales to veterans were made with the condition that the deeds would be turned over to them by the municipality as soon as building was commenced.

Still Control Canned Fruits For Babies

There are several exceptions to the order which lifted price ceilings on canned baby foods, it was pointed out in the most recent issue of the Food Bulletin of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Some grocers apparently have misunderstood the statement which said that canned goods freed from price control include all canned baby vegetables and other canned vegetables set out in a list. They have interpreted this to mean that all canned baby foods are free of price control, whereas canned apricots, cherries, peaches, pears and plums are still controlled in all sizes, including the baby, five-ounce size.

Farmers Against Daylight Saving In Saanich Deadlock

A sure sign of spring was a lengthy discussion at the Saanich meeting Tuesday night on the question of daylight saving which resulted in a tie vote on whether or not changing of the clocks during the summer months was favored.

Councillor George Rudd (Ward Two), said he did not think many people in Saanich were interested.

"They lose a lot of money as well as time by daylight saving," both councillors agreed.

Councillor Passmore said he thought the people should have been consulted long ago by plebiscite on whether or not they were interested in amalgamation. But apart from that he was in favor of co-operating, provided Saanich did not have to spend any money in the city's proposal.

Film Council News

"Student Nurse," a 45-minute film available from the Victoria Public Library, shows the various stages of a nurse's training, from the time she enters the hospital until graduation. At this time when the shortage of nurses is acute, this film is timely and would be especially suitable for showing to teen-age groups.

The Co-operative Exchange Group of films now at Victoria

Public Library will remain here only until the end of this month, at which time they will be forwarded on to another library, and a different group received.

YORK THEATRE

Regis Toomey, now appearing as the detective in Alfred Hitchcock's subtle thriller, "Spellbound," at the York Theatre, was born in Pittsburgh in 1902 and doesn't care who knows it. He received his stage training at the Carnegie Institute in that city and married stage actress Kathryn Scott. For five years he played on the stage in New York and London. Then came the call of Hollywood and he has remained in films ever since.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Red Skelton comes back as "The Show-Off," now at the Capitol Theatre in M-G-M's hilarious filmization of the comedy-drama that had Broadway laughing. Red plays a blustering back-slapping braggart who drives his in-laws to desperation but who comes through with a surprise in the end.

ROYAL THEATRE

For one scene in Darryl F. Zanuck's production, "The Razor's Edge," which is currently at the Royal Theatre, a special type of Russian singer was needed. Director Edmund Goulding had French artist Paul Cose do a drawing of the character. Search through the files showed that the only man in Hollywood whose face matched the portrait was Noel Cravat, an actor. Goulding interviewed him. Cravat sang beautifully, and got the part. Payoff: Cravat had never sung in pictures before—in his very last picture, he had played the role of a deaf mute!

RIO THEATRE

Oscar Levant, brilliant pianist and close friend of the late George Gershwin, plays the true-to-life role of George's companion and associate in Warner Bros.' musical tribute to the immortal composer, "Rhapsody in Blue," now showing at the Rio Theatre. Newcomer Robert Alda is starred in the film as George Gershwin.

DOMINION THEATRE

Cameron Mitchell for his latest film chore became a daily patron of M-G-M's hair dresser! The brawny young actor didn't visit the beauty parlor for the purpose of improving his appearance, however. For his role in the Wallace Beery starrer, "The Mighty McGurk," now showing at the Dominion Theatre, Mitchell plays a two-fisted character. Since no one can visualize toughie with curly hair, the actor reported to have his hair uncurled.

PLAZA THEATRE

There will be experienced nurses in attendance at each performance of "Mom and Dad," the new hygiene picture now at the Plaza Theatre. And there is a mighty good reason for these nurses being present. Some people faint at the medical sequences of this educational film. Nurses are there to offer aid. "Mom and Dad" is a powerful document for better living.

Moscow Makes a Comeback

Moscow, where the Big Four's Foreign Ministers will meet in March to draft the German peace treaty, seems to be making some progress toward a return to pre-war conditions. These photos, from Soviet sources, show peacetime highlights there.

TOP—Huge Hotel Moscow is a blaze of lights at night. Far beyond means of average Russian, palatial hostelry will probably house many notables of Big Four Foreign Ministers' entourage.

CENTRE—In Russian version of swing band, drummer is evidently "top man." This Moscow night club outfit is complete given to crooner in foreground.

LEFT—Autos are a scarce luxury for the ordinary Comrade Ivan, but Russians who do own them have to cope with traffic police. This one flagged down motorist to examine his papers.

HOLLYWOOD. (NEA)—"Pursued," Teresa Wright's next picture, may start a new trend in westerns. It's a psychological hero-opera. .

And they're even planning a psychological mystery for Margaret O'Brien, "There Was a Little Girl." Writer Herb Meadow is doing the script.

POSSES RIDE ON

The heroes may change in those westerns, but the sheriff's posse goes riding on. Ninety per cent of the cowboys working with Tim Holt in "Under the Tonto Rim" rode the cinematic ranges with his dad, Jack Holt.

SUPER-COLOSSAL BORIS

Boris Morros, a chubby little bald-headed fellow, has two great passions in life:

1. Shirts that look like trout lures. He has 1,500 of them, including a pink one with green stripes.

2. Producing super-colossal movies.

Boris said it couldn't be done, but Boris produced the first episodic film, "Tales of Manhattan," with a cast of 18 big stars.

For a while it looked as if there would be a riot when Boris got around to the problem of how to bill his 18 stars. So, before the film even started, he invited all 18 of 'em to a "billing" party at his home.

Edward G. Robinson suggested the names be pulled out of a hat. Charles Boyer spoke up: "Let's be fair. Let's bill them alphabetically."

"He knew," Boris said, "that there were no A's in the cast."

Finally Ginger Rogers suggested that the 18 stars be billed in order of appearance. And they finally agreed on that, after much haggling and a great deal of sipping of Boris' champagne.

THE IMPOSSIBLE IS EASY

Boris has just accomplished another "impossible"—putting 15 top opera stars and five symphony orchestra conductors in the same movie, "Carnegie Hall."

"And," he says, "I didn't have as much trouble with people like Lily Pons and Helfetz as I did with those actors in 'Tales of Manhattan.' They just wanted to know what the others were going to sing or play, and after that they were happy."

But he did whisper that one famous opera star, who shall remain nameless, wrote him a letter casually saying: "Of course,

Boris, you will see that my applause is the loudest."

Boris thinks so much of "Carnegie Hall" — "The public has been educated to classical music, and I've got a great story, too"—that he will stick his neck out with an advertising catchline, "Never Before, Never Again!"

The critics could murder him and the picture with that one.

"But I'm not worried," he said. "I showed the picture to 30 United Artists salesmen last week. And do you know what happened? The salesmen applauded, and they cried."

How did he bill his 15 opera stars and five conductors?

"In order of appearance," he said. "I'm not crazy, even if I do wear shirts that make me look like a calliope."

Police Shake-Up Brings Criticism

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police Federal Association, Local No. 12 (A.F.L.), indignant over the recent police shake-up in which 16 detectives were demoted and another four suspended, have charged the police commission with violation of their agreement.

Constable Fred Dougherty, association president, announced Tuesday that a request had been made that the commission meet with bargaining agents of the Police Federal Association "to right this wrong."

"We are fighting for a principle," said Dougherty. "This principle is involved in the manner in which members of this department were dealt. Some were demoted and some were suspended without written charges being laid against them."

Edward G. Robinson suggested the names be pulled out of a hat. Charles Boyer spoke up: "Let's be fair. Let's bill them alphabetically."

"He knew," Boris said, "that there were no A's in the cast."

Finally Ginger Rogers suggested that the 18 stars be billed in order of appearance. And they finally agreed on that, after much haggling and a great deal of sipping of Boris' champagne.

John Steinbeck's "Tortilla Flat" is now available to Victoria readers in Penguin books. This world-famous author brings his characters to life in his own popular style. Some people would call his character Danny and Danny's friends burns—they had no visible means of support, they were often in jail, their morals, especially as they concerned their neighbor's chickens, his wine, his wife, were negligible. Yet their drinking, their wenching, their good and infamous deeds are the stuff of which legends are made.

U.S. Olympic Head Opposes 'Broken Pay' For Athletes

CHICAGO (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the United States Olympics Association, today questioned whether Russia would participate in the 1948 Olympics at London and sharply criticized a European campaign to relax amateur athletic standards.

Commenting on a report that Britain's Amateur Athletic Board might permit cash reimbursements to athletes for time lost from work—as proposed by Russia, Scandinavian and continental states—Brundage declared his committee and the United States Amateur Athletic Union "will never tolerate it."

As for Russia's Olympic status, Brundage asserted that country, "at last reading," had failed to join the International Amateur Federation and affiliated groups as required for Olympic competition.

Some 20 international federations, one for each Olympics competition, must be joined by a nation wishing full participation in the games, Brundage explained.

Brundage said lifting the ban on "broken pay" concessions to amateurs would be "the entering wedge to outright professionalism in the Olympics."

Longden Gets Suspension

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Johnny Longden, leading jockey at the Santa Anita meeting, Tuesday was suspended for 10 days for failure to keep his mount straight in the stretch in the $50,000 San Vicente Handicap last Saturday—ride which led to the disqualification from first place of his horse, Stepfather.

Longden, who grew up in Alberta, was charged with veering over with Stepfather in the close run down the stretch, interfering with Hubble Bubble, which finished second, half a length behind Louis B. Mayer's Stepfather. The disqualification put Stepfather out of the money and moved Hubble Bubble into the win spot.

Rangers, one point behind third-place Bruins, planned to bring up Sugar Jim Henry from New Haven if Rayner is unable to play.

He climbed onto the Toronto shelf with such players as Garth Boesch, out more than a month with pulled groin muscles, and Bob Goldham and Vic Lynn, both believed finished for the season.

While these injuries come under classification of minor hurts, the fractured skull that Canadiens' Elmer Lach suffered in Montreal emphasized that there is always the threat of permanent disability.

Central Sports Group Scheme Draws Favor

The first step in what may ultimately lead to the formation of a Greater Victoria Sports Council was taken at the Liberal Committee Room last night as over 50 members of various sports clubs and organizations met and discussed the possibility of co-ordinating all branches of sport into one central body.

The meeting which was called by the Greater Victoria Recreation Council in the interest of all sport was well received by the delegates attending, although many of them stated that they could not act officially for their organizations until they fully understood the aims of the council.

As a result a motion for the forming of a six-man executive committee was withdrawn in favor of the election of a provisional group which would lay the groundwork for future meetings at which something more concrete in the sports co-ordination plan could be accomplished.

Doug Fletcher, member of the recreation council, was appointed chairman of the provisional committee which includes such other well-known sports officials as Wally Yeaman, Ernie Costain, George Cole, Charlie Lewis and Dick Reeves.

SEEK IMPROVED FACILITIES

The general feeling prevalent at the gathering was that there was dire need for a representative sports council in Victoria who could lobby as a body for improved sports facilities in the city. Many of the problems confronting individual sports clubs and organizations were discussed such as the clashing of dates of intercity sports events; the lack of proper dressing rooms; the absence of suitable lacrosse facilities, the arena question; the possibility of a curling rink in connection with the new arena and the shortage of basketball gyms with the resultant decline of the sport amongst the youngsters.

Doug Fletcher representing the ice hockey teams proposed that the Medical Association be approached on the subject of providing a reduced rate for athletes injured in sport. This is being done in Nanaimo where injured athletes are treated free of charge by the doctors of that city, he said. The meeting endorsed this proposal but it was left in abeyance until a permanent council is named.

When questioned on just what the recreational council is doing for sport in Victoria, Dr. Henrietta Anderson, organizing director of the Recreation Council, stated that surveys of playing fields were being carried out, data was being compiled of all recreational facilities in the city, and schools were being contacted with regard to the furthering of their recreational facilities. Any data that has been compiled by the council is available to any sports organization desiring it, she said.

They'll Do It Every Time

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as loss of appetite, stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B<sub>1</sub>, C, D, Riboflavin (B<sub>2</sub>), and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete protein to build muscle, nerves and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

ALGONQUIN INDIANS MIXED ROOTS AND NUTS WITH MEAT DISH

Of the great Indian groups in North America, the Algonquin tribes ranked first in the area of land which they held when whites came to our continent. They lived in Canada, from Newfoundland to the Rocky Mountains, down the Atlantic coast to the Carolinas.

The eastern Algonquins included the Mohegan, Delaware, Shawnee, Powhatan, Wampanoag and Narragansett tribes.

Writing more than three centuries ago, a white man set down these notes about Algonquin Indians in New England:

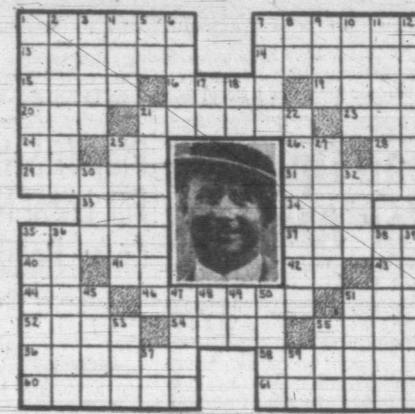

Their food is generally boiled maize, or Indian corn, mixed with kidney beans. Also they boil fish of all sorts. They cut the fish in pieces, bones and all, before boiling them.

I have wondered many times that they were not choked with fishbones, but they are clever in separating bones from fish.

Also they boil all sorts of flesh which they take in hunting, as venison, beaver, bear's flesh, moose, otters, raccoons and so on.

With the fish or meat they mix ground-nuts and other roots, also pumpkins, squashes, oak acorns, chestnuts and walnuts.

Sometimes they beat the maize into a meal. With this they make bread, baking it in the ashes and

Will Prosecute Persons Dumping Garbage In Parks

Warning that the parks department will prosecute anyone found dumping garbage in the city parks in future was issued by W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, today, as he told how parks workers are kept on the job overtime cleaning up unbearable collections of rubbish deposited in the parks.

One instance, where the truck driver was prosecuted last week, Mr. Warren cited 12 cartons of rubbish destined for the city incinerator were thrown into Beacon Hill Park.

Among the worst offenders, he said, were apartment house dwellers who are apparently ashamed to let it be known that they drink liquor, for they secret their empty bottles into the neighboring parks in large numbers. Beacon Hill Park, Central Park and Pioneer Square receive a great deal of this type of refuse, Mr. Warren said.

Broken glass from unlawful beer parties in cars on the Dallas Road parking strip on top of the hill and throughout the park is generally bad every weekend, he said, adding to the work of cleaning up on Mondays.

Garden rubbish, such as rose bush and hedge clippings are dumped continually along the Dallas Road waterfront, he said, pointing out that for the payment of a very small fee the city garbage department or any transfer company will pick up such material and dispose of it properly at the city incinerator. On regular garbage collections only ashes, cans and kitchen refuse are acceptable.

4 Speakers Scheduled For Thursday Debate

Two C.C.F. and two Coalition members are scheduled to speak in the Throne Speech debate Thursday afternoon in the B.C. Legislature.

Mrs. T. J. Rolston, Coalition member, for Vancouver-Point Grey, will open the debate tomorrow. She will be followed by Sam Guthrie, C.C.F. member for Cowichan-Newcastle; J. H. Cates, Coalition member for North Vancouver, and Randolph Harding, C.C.F. member for Kaslo-Slocan.

Williams, Mayor Disappointed By Saanich Attitude

Surprise and disappointment at the action of the Saanich Council in refusing co-operation in the proposed investigation of amalgamation for Greater Victoria was expressed today by Mayor Percy George and Ald. Edward Williams, who sponsored the proposal that the investigation be undertaken.

Mayor George said that he had always found the reeve and councillors of Saanich most cooperative in the past and he could not understand their attitude in this instance.

"The citizens of Victoria are just as much in the dark on the exact meaning of amalgamation as those of Saanich," Mayor George pointed out. "We feel that before the question can be placed officially before the citizens of Greater Victoria all the facts should be ascertained and presented to the people."

He also stressed that all residents of Greater Victoria realize there will be a larger city area in the not distant future, and, regardless of personal opinions, everything possible should be done to acquaint the citizens with the facts.

Ald. Williams was also disappointed in the decision of the Saanich Council and puzzled at the apparent change in attitude on the part of the council members.

He checked records of the inter-municipal committee and also correspondence coming into the city over the past 18 months. On Nov. 9, 1945, when Reeve E. C. Warren was previously in office, the Saanich council appointed two of its members to go with a delegation to the provincial government to request the setting up of a commission to investigate amalgamation of Greater Victoria, with the proviso that Saanich would not be involved financially.

"We are not asking them for financial aid now," Ald. Williams stressed. "All we want is co-operation in making the necessary information available to any commission set up."

ASKED JOINT ACTION

Again, on April 12, 1946, Reeve A. G. Lambrick and seven members of the Saanich council appeared before the intermunicipal committee to ask that joint action be taken to set up an investigation commission. On May 17 of the same year, they again requested that the issue be clarified.

"If they were anxious to have the facts of the situation set out less than a year ago, why will they not co-operate now when the city and Esquimalt wish to get action?" Ald. Williams

He noted that Oak Bay council had also, in the fall of 1945, favored asking the provincial government to set up the investigating commission. The question of co-operation in the present investigation is slated to come up again before Oak Bay's next council meeting.

Committee Proposes Votes For Chinese, Hindus; $10 Fine For All Non-Voters

A special committee of the B.C. Legislature set up a year ago today recommended to the house that compulsory voting, with appropriate penalties for default without reasonable excuse, and compulsory registration, with up to a $10 fine for failing to comply, be instituted in British Columbia.

The report of the committee, containing 37 items, urged that the present Elections Act be repealed and new legislation be enacted to incorporate the recommendations made by the committee. The report was released over the signature of R. H. Carson, Coalition member for Kamloops, who served as chairman of the elections committee.

Extension of the franchise to Chinese and Hindus who are at present disqualified only by reason of their racial origin and who are otherwise eligible.

E. E. Winch, Leader of the C.C.F. Opposition; W. T. Strath, Coalition member for Victoria, and Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F. member for Mackenzie, filed a minority report in which they opposed retaining any racial discrimination under the Elections Act. This means that they would extend the franchise to Japanese as well as Hindus and Chinese.

The committee also recommended that Doukhobors who have served with the armed forces or who have been rejected by the armed services, their wives and descendants who are otherwise eligible, be entitled to vote.

The franchise should also be extended to native Indians who have served as members of the armed forces and who are not resident on reserves, the committee recommended. It also recommended that all Indians enfranchised by the Indian Act of Canada be entitled to vote in the province and that the House give further study to extension of the franchise to Indians.

At the same time, however, the committee suggested only persons with adequate knowledge of English or French language, be entitled to vote.

"That there be no other courts of revision, but that the registrar-general of voters and district registrars be empowered to deal with objections or other matters of revision at any time," the committee recommended.

A system of notifying each voter who fails to vote requiring him to give reasons for his failure to vote within six months of the date of an election.

"If default continues the voter's registration shall be canceled and if he is still resident within the province he is then subject to the usual penalty for failure to register," the committee recommended.

Provision for advanced polls and absentee voting was also recommended, the advance poll to be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the week prior to an election.

Ballots from these polls, the committee suggested, should be sent to the respective returning officers to be counted at the final count.

Provision for polls in hospitals was also recommended.

The committee recommended that each voter be sent a notice just prior to an election giving the time and place of voting.

The committee proposed that every registered voter, who does not have four consecutive hours free from his employment between the hours of the opening and the closing of the polls on election day, shall be given sufficient time off from his employment, with pay, so that he shall have four consecutive hours during voting hours in which to vote.

The employer, the committee recommended, should have the discretion as to what hours should be taken off for voting.

"Your committee gave careful consideration to a proposal to introduce a form of postal ballot which might permit of voting by sick and infirm persons and persons who might be out of the province on election day," the report said. "However, your committee consider that the postal ballot is open to serious difficulties and no recommendation is being made at this time."

Sidney A. Carr was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary when he appealed before Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court today for sentence on a charge of theft of a postal letter to which he pleaded guilty Tuesday.

Victoria Presbytery In Session Here

A two-day session of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church of Canada opened this morning at Metropolitan United Church. Rev. Dr. W. W. McPherson was chairman and Rev. J. C. Thompson, secretary. Ministerial and lay delegates from 36 fields on Vancouver Island were in attendance.

J. Goldie presented a report on the missionary maintenance fund. Dr. McPherson announced that of the $5,100,000 being raised in Canada for the Pension Capital Fund, the Island allotment was $20,000.

Tonight a public meeting at Metropolitan Church will be addressed by Dr. Peter Bryce and Rev. R. R. Morrison of Kamloops.

Many and varied are the queries received by the Chamber of Commerce and the local publicity bureau from all points on the continent and elsewhere, but the latest was received today from a New York woman who wanted to know definitely whether Canadians still drive on the left side of the road. It came from Ruth Naomi Knopf, Katonah, New York, to settle a discussion on the subject among her friends. Some thought it was still "left" and others that it was "right." The chamber will notify her that right side of the road driving was made a provincial law on January 1, 1922.
